

THE CENTRAL RECORD.

THIRTY SECOND YEAR

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, DECEMBER 1, 1921.

NUMBER 34.

LANCASTER HIGH WINS THE LAST GRID GAME

Capt. Cox And His String Of Green And White Close A Successful Season.

The curtain fell on the Leavell field last Wednesday afternoon, and the Lancaster Hi School Foot Ball team trotted off the field and were declared to be the winners over the Harrodsburg eleven by the score of 7 to 2.

This was a good game and was witnessed by many spectators, who came out to cheer the Green and White warriors to victory and to see them bring to an end a most successful grid season.

The two teams were evenly matched, and as this closed the season for both elevens, each team was eager to win. But the local lads outplayed and outclassed the visitors and won by the score as given above.

Lancaster Hi chose to receive the ball and make their first marker in the first three minutes of play with brilliant end runs and forward passes. The local Hi completed eleven out of thirteen forward passes during the game. The visitors made their marker of two points when they forced the green and white boys behind their own goal line.

Both teams threatened scoring several times, but at the appointed time the offensive team would strengthen and hold for downs. The following constituted the line up for Lancaster, and they all played their usual good game of foot ball: Bratton, C. Gastineau, V. Aldridge and Moore, Guards, Crutchfield, Elliott, Tackles, Robinson, G. D. and Anderson, Ends, son and Cochran looked after the backfield.

This closed a most successful season for the Lancaster Hi eleven. They played 10 games, winning 6, tying one and losing three, and as we have said before thru the columns of the Record we would not have lost those three had we been able to have our regular lineup as some of the men were out of the game because of studies.

This year's team has not been a one man's team, as they have all helped each other to win and win fair, and played a hard game each week and should the Sporting Editor of the Record pick "An All Kentucky High School Team" he would refer you to Lancaster High.

TOBACCO ELECTION

Date December 12th.

Delegates to District Meetings Will Be Chosen Then. And These Will Choose Directors Later

MILLION POUNDS MORE SIGNED

Nominations were made in many of the counties of the burley district Saturday of the tobacco growers as candidates for delegates to the district conventions which will select the directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association. The distributing and elections committees set December 12th, as the day for the primaries at which these delegates will be elected.

The elections will be held in all the counties at the same time, under the direction of elections committee composed of three members chosen by the county organization and two chosen by the organization committee. The polls will be open from 7 o'clock in the morning until 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon and the growers may vote in person or by mailing their ballots to the election committee in each county, both methods of voting being provided for in the contract.

Voters who mail their ballots, however, must mail them to the elections committee in their county so as to reach the committee by the time the polls close on election day, December 12th. Otherwise they cannot be counted.

The elections committee in each county will certify the vote for each candidate to the organization committee.

Ballots To Be Mailed.

Ballots will be mailed to each of the 49,000 growers who have signed the contract and extra copies will be in the hands of each county election committee, so that there will be plenty of ballots to assure an opportunity to vote to every tobacco grower in the district.

The delegates chosen at the primary election December 12th, will elect the district directors in district conventions, which probably will be held the day after the primaries. Organization Manager Joseph Passonneau said.

Mr. Passonneau said that reports from many of the counties showed that more than a million pounds of tobacco was added to that already signed up to the association on the first day of the reopening of the books to give outsiders a chance to join.

In Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana counties these signatures were obtained Saturday, and in West Virginia, which has had no opportunity to join so far, a special campaign will be conducted the coming week, which will be led by Clifton Rodes, acting with Hon. Elliott Northcutt, of Huntington, who is chairman for Cabell county, in which Huntington, Barboursville and Milton are situated.

Wanted West Virginia In Chairman Northcutt insisted that the West Virginia growers be given a chance to join, in case the association obtained the 75 per cent necessary to make it go, without West Virginia. His wish is being complied with in the special campaign to be made in that state, which also will take in the county of Mason, adjoining Cabell, which grows considerable burley tobacco.

Some counties in Ohio and Indiana also are to have campaigns previous to the final close of the association's books December 10th, and Organization Manager Passonneau said he expected that the final result likely would be a sign-up of close to 95 per cent of the crop, if it does not exceed that figure.

Growers are not confined to the list of nominated delegates, however, as they may write on the official ballot the names of any persons they prefer as delegates, whether nominated by the committee or not.

Horace and Shelton Guley had the misfortune to lose their saddle and driving pony last week, due to spinal meningitis. "Grand-daddy" Romans offered them his Lexington, in return of same but they very graciously refused it.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Held On Gridiron Before The Game Last Wednesday.

Just before the foot ball game between Lancaster and Harrodsburg Hi on last Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Hart, who conducted the revival services at the Christian church, had the two teams, together with the spectators, assemble in the middle of the field where he said a few words relative to the boy, Benjamin Kavanaugh, who would not be in the game owing to the fact that he had lost his father, and he paid tribute to the long and faithful services of one of the teachers, Miss Amanda Anderson, who died Wednesday.

This game would have been called off but the relatives of both Mr. Kavanaugh and Miss Anderson asked that the game be played.

Rev. Hart closed with a prayer.

She had been an invalid for four years, and her death followed a stroke of paralysis suffered but a few days ago.

She was the widow of the late Joseph H. Arnold, who preceded her to the grave several years ago. She is survived by three children, Mrs. Nellie Taylor, of this city, and Messrs. Ralph and James Arnold, of South Carolina. Mrs. Arnold before her marriage was Miss Eliza Anderson of this county, a sister of Mrs. Thompson Arnold, Mrs. Bettie Landram, and Mrs. E. W. Hibbard.

Just as the rays of the sun began to peep over the hills the life of Mr. Earnest C. Hibbard passed into the Great Beyond, at four o'clock this Thursday morning, he having been a sufferer from a malignant disease of the stomach.

Mr. Hibbard was a young man of sterling quality and was just in the prime of life, being thirty-six years old, a better citizen, a hard working man, a truer husband and father never lived than he. He united with the Baptist church in his early boyhood days and was a faithful member, always willing and ready to serve his God.

Mr. Hibbard married Miss Anna Oaks, of this city, on Nov. 15th, 1917 and to their union were born two children, who together with his aged mother and sister, Mrs. E. B. Ray are left to survive this true and dear husband, father, son and brother.

Mr. Hibbard was a member of both the I. O. O. F. and Masonic lodges, of this city, and they will conduct the funeral services at the grave tomorrow (Friday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock. Burial will be in the Lancaster cemetery.

Service Men Of Garrard County, Attention.

The next meeting of the American Legion of the Heidal Sanford Post, No. 35, will be held at the I. O. O. F. Hall in Lancaster, Ky., Tuesday night, Dec. 6th, at 7:30 P. M. This is a very important meeting and all service men of Garrard county are urgently requested to be present. Plans will be discussed at this meeting relative to having an expert here to fill out compensation papers for the disabled service men of Garrard and also make arrangements for a "get together banquet" to be held before the Xmas holidays.

It is the wish that every service man in Garrard county will use every effort to be present.

SECRET ORGANIZATIONS

A Brief Insight Of What They Are Doing.

Many there are who are "agin lodges," and for various reasons, the chief of which the objectors give that "the members depend upon their lodge to take them to Heaven, rather than placing their membership in a church." This is an erroneous idea, and entertained only by those who are wholly ignorant of the teaching of fraternal societies.

In the first place, every lodge, or at least everyone of which we have any knowledge is founded upon the teachings of the bible, the bible graces every altar and their every meeting is opened and closed with prayer. A man cannot belong to a fraternal organization unless he is a believer in a supreme being, and the better Christian he is the better lodgeman he makes. None of them are taught, or is there any intimation that "his lodge will take him to Heaven," upon the contrary the church is invariably placed before the lodge, every member is encouraged to identify himself with the church, and at least 75 per cent of the membership are church members.

That fraternal organizations are doing untold good, no one who will take the trouble to observe that part of their work which is apparent to the world at large, can deny.

Take the two leading organizations, the Masons and the Odd Fellows: The Masons maintain an Orphans Home in Louisville and the Odd Fellows one in Lexington; in these two institutions are more than six hundred children, left by deceased members of the two orders. These children are clothed and fed comfortably, as comfortably as the average child, are educated and prepared to battle successfully with the world when they are thrown upon their own resources. Nor is their religious training neglected, they have the very best opportunities along this line.

The promoters of these institutions are striving all the time to improve them in every possible way, and to this end in order to provide funds for this purpose, the Masons have just about completed the raising of an endowment fund of $1,000,000, and the Odd Fellows a similar fund of $500,000, all of which vast sums are to be devoted to the building of more commodious quarters and providing for the better care of their ever increasing number of wards.

In addition to this the Masons own and maintain an Old People's Home at Shelbyville, Ky., and the Odd Fellows a like institution at Eminence, Ky., where indigent and infirm members of the orders may have good homes and tender care in their old and infirm days.

Nor is this good work confined to these institutions, they were simply taken as an example: The Knights of Pythias, the Elks, Eagles and many others are pursuing splendid work along the same line, all to the end that the orphan may be cared for and the old people may have good homes and good care in the evening of their lives.

Can you conceive of better work, work imbued by a more Christian spirit than this?

Then before you criticize or speak harshly of these people or their doings in the future, take the trouble to inform yourself accurately as to just what they are doing, and you will no doubt be less severe on your criticism.

Give Them Credit.

Now that the great fall game, Foot Ball, is over and we have read about the great elevens, both in and out of the State, and we read about the All Kentucky teams, the All Southern teams and the All American eleven, our minds wander back to the Lancaster High School Foot Ball team, which has just closed a most successful season.

Mr. John McRoberts of the firm of McRoberts' Drug Store acted as the Athletic Director of the local team and made a most excellent one, while Mr. Glass B. Carrier and Mr. Wood Wilmot, both gave of their time and acted as coaches of the said team.

They worked right in connection with the Faculty of the Lancaster Schools and we cannot give them too much credit for the work that they did for the team.

Our hats are off to you, gentlemen, for your faithful services well rendered.

Last week for assessing city property. H. C. Hamilton, Assessor.

TOBACCO ASSOCIATION OPENS DOORS.

Time Extended Until Midnight, Dec. 10th.

LET'S MAKE GARRARD 100 PER CENT INSTEAD OF 82 PER CENT.

Acting upon the advice of the County Chairmen, the Organization Committee of the Tobacco Marketing Association agreed to open the doors to allow as many as care to sign the contract and get in on the ground floor, owing to the fact that as many tobacco growers were misled as to the outcome of this movement it was deemed advisable to extend the time until December 10th., at which time the doors will close and all who stay out then will not be able to get in this Association.

The Burley district went way over and as stated above the few who were left out again have this opportunity of joining.

Garrard County has already gone over in this association and we trust that the few who have held out will sign their tobacco and thus make the plan 100 per cent strong in Garrard instead of 82 per cent that she has signed. There will not be any drives made, according to Judge Lewis L. Walker, who is County Chairman of the organization, but, anyone wishing to sign the contract may do so at the county headquarters or see their precinct chairmen.

Members of the warehouse committee are busy with the problems presented by the few warehouse companies which have not yet agreed to close their plants pending the permanent organizations, and hope to work out all these problems by the time the association is ready for business.

The committee on temporary operations is preparing data for the use of the directors, when elected, so that they shall be fully informed of the situation throughout the district before they are called upon to assume their duties.

Primary Elections December 12th.

Primary elections in every county in the burley district that has signed up its tobacco to the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association were called for Dec. 12, 1921, by the districting and elections committee. Every grower in the district will be mailed a ballot on which will be a list of the names of men nominated as delegates from his county, with a number of blank spaces on the ballot in which he may write the names of other persons in case he desires to vote for others than those nominated.

The elections in the various counties will be held by sections, committees consisting of three members chosen by the county organizations in each of the counties, including the county chairman, and two other members chosen by the organization committee of the association.

Growers may cast their ballots personally by handing them to the elections committee or may mail them to the elections committee so that they will reach the committee by 4 o'clock on the afternoon of election day, Dec. 12th.

The polls will be open in each county at 7 o'clock in the morning and will close at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The elections committee in each county will count the vote and certify the result to the organization committee of the association.

Besides the ballot sent to each of the 49,000 growers who have signed the contract, additional ballots will be sent to each of the county elections committees, so that all who sign up their crops during the next fifteen days may have opportunity to vote in the selection of delegates to the district conventions.

The delegates chosen in the primaries Dec. 12th., will select the directors at district meetings the date for which will be announced later.

American Legion News

An escaped leopard which terrorized Kansas City and Independence, Mo., was reported headed for Parsons. American Legion men of the city assembled in their clubrooms, cleaned up the old army Springfield used by the firing squad and prepared for defense of the town. It was learned then, however, that a reward of $50 was offered for the capture of the leopard alive. The guns were stacked and a Texas ranger of the post set out to rope the animal. He is still after it.

The American Legion post of Lawler, Ia., has completed a trade with the city authorities whereby the ex-soldiers act as the municipal fire department and the city in turn furnishes a clubhouse and overhead expenses for the Legion men. The service men already have had several baptisms of fire.

An ex-soldier has requested the Oklahoma American Legion to canvass the country for Ollie Kendall, former doughboy of the 140th Inf., 35th Div. "He was my buddy in France. I borrowed a bunch of francs from him once. Winter is coming and he is married and has 2 children. I know he will need the money this winter and I want to pay him, wherever he is," the service man said.

Chauncey M. Depew shocked the American Legion of New York the other day by appearing to ask for his war service medal. He was but a name-sake of the world's greatest after-dinner speaker, however, who was a supply sergeant in the A. E. F.

Colorado and Texas led the lists of new posts chartered by the American Legion during the week ended November 18, according to national headquarters. Eleven posts gained during the week raised the total to 10,672. Other states to add posts were Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Oregon and Pennsylvania.

More applications for membership in Kansas City American Legion posts have been received since the national convention than in the preceding twelve months. The increase in the number of Legionnaires in Kansas City as a result of the convention has been estimated at twenty-five hundred.

More than 3,000 unemployed ex-service men of Chicago will eat Christmas dinner on "Lightnin'" this year. With Fred Stone acting as stage manager and the veteran Frank Bacon as his assistant, the American Legion of Chicago is preparing the theatrical benefit.

To advertise an American Legion rummage sale for unemployed soldiers, Mrs. Harry H. Hewlitt, wife of a prominent physician of Seattle, donned Charlie Chaplin raiment and paraded the streets with a sandwich board. Clothing from the rummage sale comprised her attire.

The town of McMinnville, Ore., wanted to add a pulmotor to its fire-fighting equipment. When the American Legion post of the town learned that the department had been compelled to give itself as security to raise money for the apparatus, they turned over half their Armistice Day show proceeds for the purchase.

With national prohibition an accomplished fact, the W. C. T. U. has turned over to the American Legion the remainder of a war-time fund totalling $4,000. The Legion will use the money for the immediate relief of sick and wounded service men.

The United States army has been so reduced in number that when the American Legion requested a firing squad from Ross aviation field, Calif., the commanding officer had to haul down a balloon to get the number of men required. The shortage of personnel is so acute that men must be taken off duty to fill such requests.

The American Legion has begun a nation wide canvass to determine who was the last soldier killed in action. The French government will erect a monument to the last to fall. A Legion post at New Haven, Conn., has put forward the name of Thomas J. Walpole, Jr., killed on the morning of Armistice Day in an outpost engagement.

Gamaliel, the 60 pound turkey for President Harding's Thanksgiving Day dinner, was sent from Crystal Springs, Miss., in a profusely decorated crate by the American Legion of that city. The whole town of Crystal Springs turned out to bid the bird goodbye. Gamaliel's chaplain to Washington was M. H. Daily, prohibition director for the state of Mississippi.

The American Legion has 765,739 members in 10,830 posts in the United States. Posts outside of the country are represented in twenty-one foreign lands.

PROFITS MADE IN POOLING COTTON

Four States Organize With Prospect Of Entire Belt Joining

U. S. AIDS IN FINANCING.

Dallas, Tex., (Associated Press.)—Changes in the cotton marketing system are being effected by the Growers' Marketing Associations now being federated into the American Cotton Growers' Exchange, according to C. O. Moser, secretary of that organization.

Texas, Oklahoma, Mississippi and Arizona are the charter members of the organization and are all four marketing their cotton successfully through co-operative associations this year, according to Mr. Moser. "North Carolina has completed its State organization and is said to be ready to affiliate," added Mr. Moser. "Organization of growers' associations is being rapidly completed in South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, and Arkansas while the preliminary work is being done in Alabama and Louisiana.

Includes All Of Cotton Belt.

"These States include practically all of the cotton area of the United States. Final completion of the organization of the entire South is expected before March 1, 1922."

Some idea of the magnitude of the movement may be obtained from a statement made by Walton Peteet, secretary of the Texas Farm Bureau in which he said that the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, a member of the exchange, had as much cotton to sell as any five cotton firms in the world. He further said that this cotton was all graded and classed and ready for immediate delivery.

Oklahoma cotton growers have organizations similar to the one in Texas and almost as great in size and importance. The Texas Association has received to date in the neighborhood of 100,000 bales of cotton, according to D. G. Hill, Jr., secretary of the Association. In pursuance to its plan to market in an orderly fashion throughout the year only about 17,000 bales have been sold so far.

$200,000 More Than Market.

Walter L. Troutt, sales manager says that he has been able to obtain for members of the Texas Association from two to three cents a pound more than street buyers have been paying.

This amounts to from $10 to $15 a bale, or about $200,000 increase on sales already made. Should the same ratio be held on the 100,000 bales already received it will amount to more than $1,125,000. Cotton is still being received, however, at the rate of from 1,800 to 3,500 bales a day at the Dallas office, and no one is able to tell at the present time the total amount of cotton which the association finally will handle this year.

Mr. Moser says the association has advanced to members more than $1,500,000 to date on more than 50,000 bales of cotton, although it is said that less than half of the growers are asking for advances. Forty dollars a bale is now being advanced to growers on delivery of their cotton to the association and prior to the final sale.

While no accurate figures on the cost of selling the cotton can be given until the end of the selling season, it is estimated that it will not exceed $1 a bale. Handling charges, such as sampling, weighing, storage, etc., are not included in the estimate made by officials.

Money Saved For Members.

The association, according to Mr. Troutt is saving money for its members, through the prevention of indiscriminate sampling and by properly warehousing to prevent weather damage. The association classing rooms are said to be the largest in Texas and the graders are handling from 2,000 to 2,500 bales a day.

Recognition of the business standing of the Texas Association was given by the War Finance Corporation when it lent $15,000,000 to assist in the movement of the cotton. Texas banks followed immediately after by announcing an acceptance credit of $1,500,000 and offering a cash loan of $500,000 which since has increased to more than $1,000,000.

The work of handling the incoming cotton has become so great that it has become necessary to have night and day shifts for the employees. One set of clerks goes to work at 7 in the evening and works until 6:30 in the morning. Many members of the day force work from 8:30 in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. The office employs 125 persons.

Many Towns Named Chicago.

In addition to the big city on Lake Michigan, there are three Chicagos and two New Chicagos. One Chicago is in the mountains of Marion county, Kentucky. Another is quite a town in Harlan county, Ohio; and the other is in Dawson county, Texas. The New Chicagos are in Indiana and Montana.

India Land of Mystery.

India is said to be "the burning heart of Asia." That is to say, it has a genius for religion that is unsurpassed. Of the four great faiths which had their genesis in Asia, three were born in India. It is a land of 147 languages. Some of them are spoken by only a few people, but there are ten of these languages, each of which is spoken by 10,000,000 or more. Of every 100 people in the world, eighteen live in India. The latest census of India gives the population as 318,132,537.

Beggars in Constantinople. And then the beggars! They are at every turn in Constantinople. For the most part they are Armenians. They follow a person for great distances, whining and crying. Some of them carry deformed babies, probably rented as it seems unlikely that every beggar could have a deformed child. Many make their children lie in the street on wet pavements and pretend to be asleep to excite the pity of the passerby and thus secure alms.

7. We gave them our William but they could not get or goat.

8. "British Tommy" rammed the line in Flanders mud.

9. A man who can tear off ten yards on a line buck is some "Gaddy bout."

HELPED HER LITTLE GIRL

Children need all their strength for growing. A lingering cold weakens them so that the system is open to attack by more serious sickness. Mrs. Amanda Flint, Route 4, New Philadelphia, O., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar cured my little girl of the worst tickling cough. I had tried many things and found nothing to help until I got Foley's Honey and Tar." Gives immediate relief from distressing, racking, tearing coughs; soothes and heals. Traveler's Prayer.

O, Father of this universe—outside the territory covered by Volstead, Wayne B. Wheeler and Helm Bruce. We humbly ask your forgiveness for the unkind thought we have entertained about the buyers, who have lied to us about prices of our competitors and about being overstocked with one case. And Father we did not want to think the things we did about the merchants who kept us waiting in their store for an hour while they were so busy doing nothing. It was alright for them to do that as it was the only way they could keep us from doing an honest day's work, and then their mental capacity is below zero.

If we said anything unkind about the hotels, Father forgive us, but please make our hides as tough as armor plate, so that we can sleep soundly with them. And make us lay still in bed so we can't turn over and accidentally mash one of them. They have such a beautiful complexion. Tobacco juice brown—And when mashed their fragrances is surpassed only by that of Tony's Skunk.

And, Father, give us control of our eyes, so we can direct our eyes towards the lower end instead of the top end of a pair of silk hose especially worn by a lady who insists on boarding a train or street car before us. We would go on first but we know that isn't polite.

Father, give us power not to flirt with married or red-headed women. We know it isn't nice and we don't if we know and we always know in the case of the last named. But it is alright with other unmarried women. They say they don't care.

Father, give us strength to come home to our wives, to act in such a way that she won't be suspicious of us, and give presence of mind enough to destroy that letter in our pocket signed "Mable," before our wives find it.

And, Father, if our last trip is to be towards Hazard, we ask you to take us home with you, as we would have no new experiences by going below and all we ask is a change in territory.—Amen.—Lexington Herald.

Co-operative Sales Plan Of Farmers And Breeders.

Lexington, Ky., County co-operative bull sales as a means of supplying a market for surplus animals from purebred herds and furnishing farmers with high-grade sires are being planned for a number of counties in the State, according to cattle specialists at the College of Agriculture. Sales already have been proposed for Wayne and Lincoln counties and it is probable that several others will adopt the idea.

During the past years breeders have not found a ready market for surplus bulls in their herds and in many cases have fed them out for the market as steers, according to the cattlemen. The sales which are being planned are expected not only to furnish a market for these animals but also make it possible for farmers to obtain superior breeding animals at a reasonable price. Breeders having surplus sires will send them to an auction sale to be held at a central point in the county, according to present plans.

VICTIMS RESCUED

Kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles are most dangerous because of their insidious attacks. Heed the first warning they give that they need attention by taking

GOLD MEDAL HARLEM OIL CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for these disorders, will often ward off these diseases and strengthen the body against further attacks. Three sizes, all druggists. Look for the same Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitations.

If the American people get much richer some of us will have to get poorer again in order to become conspicuous.

And still, if the excitement dies down entirely in Washington there remains the possibility that Mr. Hughes will open his mouth and make another noise.

Home-made Sausage

Three parts of lean meat to one of fat give good results in making sausage on the farm animal husbandrymen at the College of Agriculture say. One recipe recommended by them for good sausage includes these ingredients for every six pounds of meat. One and one-half ounces of fine salt, one-half ounce of finely ground black pepper, and one-half ounce or less of sage to suit the taste. One-half ounce of black pepper and one-fourth ounce of red pepper may be used instead of all black pepper if a "hotter" sausage is desired. Ginger also may be substituted for the sage if desired. The meat may be rolled in the seasoning before the pork is ground or the seasoning added after the grinding.

Meat Curing Success Involves No Secrets.

Curing meat on the farm involves no great secret and can be done successfully if a few general principles are observed, according to animal husbandrymen at the College of Agriculture. Thoroughly cooling the pork to remove all animal heat before the curing starts and trimming off all ragged edges and corners before the meat is placed in the curing solution are the important points to be taken into consideration. Curing by the sugar method is recommended by the specialists as one of the best for Kentucky.

After the meat has been thoroughly cooled for at least 24 hours it should be left in salt from 18 to 20 curing days if it is to be preserved by this method. Curing days are those on which the meat will take salt, this condition not being true in freezing weather. After the meat has been removed from the vat or bin it should be washed in lukewarm water to remove the outer coating of excess salt. At the end of 12 hours the excess salt and water should have dripped from the pork after which the meat may be smoked until it attains an amber brown color.

The mixture for sugar curing is made by preparing a thick mixture of molasses and pepper, one-fifth of which is red pepper. No certain amount of either ingredient is prescribed but enough should be used to make a thick, pasty substance. This should be spread over the meat which then should be wrapped in parchment paper followed by muslin and hung in a dry place where the temperature is fairly uniform and meat protected from flies. If no parchment paper is available newspapers dipped in lard or grease will serve the purpose.

Eczema and Tetter Due To Impurities In The Blood

To Get Absolute Relief You Must Clear Your Blood of Waste Products.

The blood is the means by which all the tissues of the body are directly or indirectly nourished. You will at once realize that unless the blood is pure, some part of the body will become diseased.

Few skin diseases denote with unfailing certainty a weakened and impure state of the blood.

To correct the basic trouble—waste products—the blood must be purified. Don't clog your blood. Just clean it out. Nature will do the rest. Pure, rich, red blood nourishes the body and fights off disease.

S. S. S., the standard blood purifier and system builder, is the ideal remedy for skin eruptions. The effect of S. S. S. is to rid the system of the waste products which are causing the trouble. For over 50 years S. S. S. has proven to be of unusual merit. Begin taking S. S. S. today and write for 56 page illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free.

Personal medical advice, without charge, may also be had by sending a complete description of your case. Address: Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 742 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. All good drug stores sell S. S. S.

Will some one kindly mention the league of nations occasionally? We don't want to forget the dear thing entirely.

When a fellow becomes too wise for his day we just put him down for a fool and let him rip.

Although he is surrounded by the high dignitaries of the world, they say Mr. Hughes remains as cool as a cucumber. Of course you know just how cool a cucumber is.

All the world seems to be looking to the United States for financial relief. Eventually, when everybody else is taken off, it is possible we may be able to do something for ourselves.

Power Cannot Be Resisted.
No receptacle has ever been made with sufficient strength to resist the bursting power of frozen water.

Egotism.
Always reflect that, of course, some of the services performed for you are not so well done as you could do them.

Oris root is the root of several species of iris, which, on account of its violet-like smell, is employed in perfumery and in the manufacture of tooth-powder.

Jud Tunkins says oratory seems to have a basket, because a man who has eloquence and magnetism can make more money out of some kind of salesmanship.

An Elimination Contest.
More than 1,000 novels are written in a year in America; written and published. Ten are read. Two are remembered for a few years. One survives a decade—once in a decade.—Exchange.

Rats Outwitted by Sawdust.
Insulation by sawdust not only deadens sound, but also defeats rats. When a rat starts to construct a burrow through packed sawdust, the operation no doubt seems easy enough to begin with. But presently the sawdust begins to cave in, filling the hole as fast as the rat can dig, and in the end discouraging the animal completely.

Storm Door.
An outside door on the north or west side of the house, unless protected by an outside storm door, always makes the room in which it opens uncomfortable in severe weather. You can take your screen door and cover it with two thicknesses of burlap, tacked on with copper tacks. Hang it the same way as the screen door and it makes a good substitute for a storm door. In spring remove the burlap and the door is ready for summer duty.

Trees Strong.
Trees and plants display a wonderful strength at times. Some of them will lift a heavy stone which blocks their way or even split a rock, but there is one thing which they can not withstand and that is the stranglehold of another plant which encircles them. A honeysuckle will soon kill a tree which it takes hold of and in the tropical forests there are many creepers which kill the trees they climb and save themselves by reaching out to neighboring trees.

Color schemes, suggested by an expert as suitable for prisons, are pink for boy thieves, yellow or orange for convicts guilty of long-premeditated crimes and violet and black for burglars. All cells should have blue ceilings, and gray should be avoided.

The term penny in connection with nails is always used in combination with prefixed numerals, such as four-penny, ten-penny, etc., to form an adjective. These adjectives now denote certain arbitrary sizes. Originally, they denoted the price per hundred of nails.

Water and Electricity.

The bureau of standards says if a stream of water from a hose is thrown upon high tension wires at close range there is considerable hazard from the possible conduction of electricity by the stream of water back to the men holding the nozzle. If, however, the stream of water be thrown from a distance such that the water breaks up into drops before coming in contact with the electrical conductors, there is little danger, as such a stream of water is nonconducting.

As The Editor Sees It.

The money this government loaned to foreign governments during the war came from the pockets of the people in the form of taxes. It was the people's money.

Now the same old insidious lobby is at work again in Washington in order to "educate" the people up to the idea of canceling those ten or eleven billions of dollars in debts the allied governments owe to us.

It is time for the press of the country to serve plain and unmistakable notice on the government and congress that the people of this country will not stand for a wholesale filching of their hard earned funds.

If the president and congress are sincere in their professed desire to serve the people they will take no such action without first submitting the question to a referendum vote of all of the people. It is safe to predict what the result of such a vote would be.

We don't like to weary our readers with too frequent references to this question, but some one is trying to get his hand into the public pocket—and this paper objects.

We have a nose for a thief or a man who won't pay his debts.

If the nations of the old world are in need of a helping hand this country should extend it to the extent of its ability without material injury to itself.

That can be done in the way of extending the payment of the debts owed to us over a long period of years, provided the people on the other side quit squandering what they have in preparing for another war—and go to work.

If the government of the old world will make a study of the golden rule and apply it to their daily life there will be little need of armies and navies and the vast expenditures they entail.

We suggest that they quit serving the devil for a while and give the Lord a chance to look in.

Then in time they will become prosperous again and will be able to pay their debts without working an unnecessary hardship upon any one.

Are you, by chance, worrying over that "terrible thirst?" Drink a glass of water. In fifteen minutes drink another. Keep on drinking until you have consumed at least two quarts in the run of the day.

It won't harm you, and it will do you a lot of good.

As you become accustomed to large quantities of water you will gradually lose that thirst for something stronger. In time you may even be able to grin at the other fellow with that longing and furtive look on his countenance.

Then, too, the more water you drink the less medicine you will need. It is the greatest of all aids to digestion or constipation.

Have one on us.

Make it a jolly Christmas and don't worry over the bills. They won't come due until next year. That sounds a long way off, whether it is or not.

Browse around town and look into the stores. You may be surprised at some of the things you find. We've seen a lot of 'em, and we know.

We suspect our local merchants are attempting to make London and Paris jealous—or perhaps they know the discriminating taste of our people and are simply trying to meet expectations.

At any rate, the "berries" are there, in the stores, waiting to be picked.

And believe us, they are worth picking.

Make the most of Christmas. We won't have another one this year.

The demand for Tanlac has broken all world's records. Over Twenty Million bottles have been sold since it was placed on the market six years ago.

Christian Church Notes

The revival which had been in progress for two weeks at the Christian church closed last Sunday night. In the course of the meeting 82 were added to the church. Of this number 52 were by confession and baptism. The remainder came from other Christian churches, except one, who after confession joined the Presbyterian church.

Rev. M. A. Hart, of Danville, who conducted the meeting and Miss Kathryn Warriner, who directed the music proved themselves to be most capable leaders. Miss Warriner's solos were greatly enjoyed. Mr. Hart's sermons were as strong and impressive as any series ever delivered in town. Besides, his benignity of spirit, his attractive personality, and his earnestness in promoting the cause of Christianity irrespective of denominational lines endeared him to all who heard and came to know him.

A rather unusual but very pleasant feature of the meeting was a dinner given by some of the women of the church at the Kensington Hotel on last Saturday to the officers and ministers of the congregation. Twenty-three sat around the festive board and enjoyed the turkey dinner that was served. The special guests of the occasion were Mr. Hart and Uncle Billy Pope. The latter, grown somewhat elderly now, has been a member of the Lancaster congregation for many years. No better man than Uncle Billy ever lived and few as good. The officers of the church felt greatly honored in having him as a special guest and enjoyed him very much.

Next Sunday at the Christian church will be what is known as C.

Moody with us as we will have the opportunity of renewing a friendship developed while in college together. In this day when the biggest question before us as a nation is our relation to the other nations of the earth, we should all be very anxious to get all the dependable knowledge we can in regard to the condition in other lands. So we earnestly invite the public to hear J. E. Moody at Pleasant Grove next Sunday.

Heat ALL Your House THROUGH ONE REGISTER

Yes, it's just as possible in your home as it has been in fifty thousand others. You, too, may have every room comfortable with balmy healthful heat, reaching every corner by Nature's method of circulation—and all through only one register! It isn't necessary to clutter up your house with pipes, overheat your cellar and incur big bills—not when you can get the

The Original Patented Pipeless Furnace

It can be set up in a day, without inconvenience to you, and will make your home so comfortable in the severest winter weather you will be well repaid.

Your house will be uniformly warm; your cellar will be just right for the storage of fruits and vegetables. Your fuel bill will be less than with stoves that heat only a part of your house.

HERE ARE THE REASONS

The Caloric is the Original Patented Pipeless Furnace—the result of the study of competent engineers to solve the heating problem in the most satisfactory way. That they have succeeded is proved by the fact that the number of Caloric sold on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction is three times greater than any other pipeless furnace.

The cause of this satisfaction lies in the patented and exclusive principle that distinguishes the Caloric from all others. It is not a pipe furnace provided with an extra casing, but a complete revolution in furnace building designed exclusively for pipeless heating.

Come In And See Us

We will show you what these principles are, and you will then see what Caloric quality means, why it always succeeds and why imitations cannot accomplish the same results. Then you will be in no danger of buying an inferior article, with all its disappointment in later months. Get a copy of the book "Progress," which tells the facts about pipeless heating. WAREHOUSES Will Not Open For The Sale Of Burley

Owners Agree In Conference With Association Committee To Give Time For Election Of Directors And Permanent Organization.

One hundred of the 111 warehouses or warehouse companies represented at the conference with the warehouse committee Tuesday voted to adopt a resolution providing for the closing of the warehouses, so far as the sale of burley tobacco is concerned, pending the permanent organization of the association and the selection of the board of directors. The other eleven did not vote against closing, but later in the afternoon held a conference with the warehouse committee, at which details relating to these particular warehouses were worked out, some of them being in counties in which dark tobacco, as well as burley, is grown and desiring to open their houses to sell dark tobacco only, while remaining closed so far as burley is concerned. Following the conference with the committee all except three either signed the closing resolutions or agreed to remain closed, pending the organization of the association. These three agreed to remain closed until December 15th.

The conference adopted without opposition a resolution proposed by a committee composed of James C. Stone, M. L. Kirkpatrick and Dave Prewitt, which was appointed on motion of Dr. Samuel H. Halley, after a number of motions and substitute motions had been offered looking toward the valuation of warehouse property. The resolution offered by the committee provided that the warehousemen offer their property to the association for its use until the board of directors of the association and the owners of the property have had opportunity to work out a method of valuation of the property it is proposed by the association to take over.

Just previous to the adjournment of the conference, which was in session from 10 o'clock until 1, and which assembled again at 2 o'clock, Chairman Ralph M. Barker, of the warehouse committee, expressed the hope no warehousemen in the district would ignore the wishes of the 50,000 tobacco growers who had signed the co-operative marketing contract and that all would keep their houses closed so far as the sale of burley tobacco was concerned, until the association could get ready to do business.

Vice Chairman Stone expressed the same thought, calling attention to the fact that the men in the conference all had been for the co-operative marketing plan and had worked hard for it, making possible by that hard work and devotion to the cause of its final success.

The resolution providing that the warehouses remain closed for the sale of burley tobacco pending the permanent organization of the association was offered by Rev. J. R. Jones, of Harrison County, and was the first business considered by the conference. It reads as follows:

"Resolved, that we keep our warehouses closed for the sale of burley tobacco until the Board of Directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association is elected and a reasonable time is allowed the association to get organized and ready for business."

The resolution relating to the valuation of warehouse property, as finally reported by the committee named on motion of Dr. Halley, was adopted unanimously. It reads as follows:

"Inasmuch as the Board of Directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association will be elected within the next thirty days, and as nothing can be legally done until they are elected, and as we have been assured that the subject of appraisal, buying or leasing of our properties will be taken up as soon as practicable after said Board is elected.

"Be it resolved, that we warehousemen offer to the association the use of our warehouses until the Board of Directors of the association, in conjunction with the owners of the warehouses, work out a fair method of arriving at the values of the various properties by arbitration."

Sweet Daphne's "Hope Box"

By MURIEL BLAIR.

Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union

"How very nice of Nellie," said Mary Lincoln, as she and her best friend Daphne Willis, parted at the village post office after receiving and opening two boxes, exactly alike.

"The box is exquisite," spoke Daphne, glancing with taste and pleasure over the neck collar neatly done up in tissue paper with a dainty sachet bag beside it. "Nellie is very thoughtful."

They had been great friends, those three. All through Nellie's engagement Mary and Daphne had been closest to her of her many acquaintances. She had promised not to forget them when she reached the city on her wedding tour. Now Nellie had redeemed her promise.

"I shall wear the collar at the regular club party next week," said Mary. "You will be there, Daphne?"

"I think not. My aunt is not very well, you know, and needs me most of the time. Besides," and Daphne gave a nervous laugh, "I fear I am getting past the party age, Mary."

"Nonsense!" cried her devoted friend. "Twenty-three and you look like sixteen."

"I shall put the collar away in my 'hope box,'" said Daphne.

Just here Mary made a pretense of clenching her pretty pink and white fists and grinding her pearly teeth in a feat of the most dreadful rage.

"Daphne Willis," she scolded severely, "if ever I happen across that 'hope box' of yours, I'll—I'll stamp on it; yes, I will."

"That's enough!" retorted Daphne, closing the cheery lips of her stamach champion with a kiss—"I know I am beginning to feel very old, and I think it a duty to be prepared if any likely old bachelor—why, yes, even some respectable widower—should happen along, you know!"

It was all a joke, Daphne's "hope box," a feminine conceit that appealed to Daphne because it led to pleasant quip and gossip among her bright girl friends. In her own mind Daphne felt pretty well convinced that she would never marry.

Her "hope box" was a satin-lined cedar chest, given to her by a dear girl friend on her birthday.

It was nearly a year after the wedding of Nellie that Daphne received a letter from a cousin who lived at Meriton. She had been in correspondence regularly with this relative, and several times Miss Dalby had referred to a neighbor, a Mr. Paul Barnes.

"I have great news for you, Daphne," this last letter ran. "I have often told you what a fine young man Mr. Barnes was. His parents left him quite an estate, and I suppose he got lonely in the old homestead. At any rate, he is about to marry, and what do you think? he has picked out the poorest girl in the village. It is one Lina Temple. She is so poor her folks cannot afford any kind of an outfit, and very quietly some friends and myself are helping her out. If you have any little trifle to contribute, I shall be glad."

Good-hearted Daphne had something of a struggle with herself. Then her generous soul impelled a sacrifice.

"I shall never marry," she said to herself. "I shall be making some one happy," and the "hope box" went to Miss Dalby.

Two months later Daphne's aunt died. It was natural that Miss Dalby should ask her to make her home with her. This she did, and Daphne found herself installed at Meriton.

"I have often thought of the wedding you wrote me about," observed Daphne, the first evening of her arrival.

"Oh, did I never write you?" exclaimed Miss Dalby. "The match was broken off. We got up quite a handsome outfit for Lina Temple. She never used it, for she eloped with a circus performer two days before the date for the wedding."

"And Mr. Barnes?" inquired Daphne. "I think, secretly, he was relieved, for the girl was not of his class—headstrong, capricious, all for times and glitter."

Of course, Daphne met Paul Barnes, and there seemed to spring up a mutual interest between them. One evening as he stood at the garden gate, the tender influences of the sweet June night seemed to bind him lingeringly to the spot.

"You are a good friend, Miss Willis," he said. "I never told you, but I have heard of your kind thought to make happy the young lady I at one time thought to make my wife. Shall we walk to the lake and back? It is such a beautiful evening," he suggested, and there was a strange, wistful tremor in his voice.

Daphne listened to words that rang so true their echo thrilled and lingered, even as she came back to the house, her heart beating with the joy of a new-found happiness, her face radiant with telltale blushes.

She went up to where Miss Dalby sat and put her arms around her, and hid her conscious face on her shoulder.

"Dear cousin," she whispered, "you told me you had stored my old 'hope box' in the garret."

"Yes, dear," replied Miss Dalby, smiling wisely.

"I should like to have it back again, if you please," said sweet Daphne Willis.

Co-operation Lowers Costs Of Marketing

Lexington, Ky. — Co-operative shipping associations are furnishing one of the cheapest methods whereby farmers of the State can market livestock, according to reports received from organizations in different counties by D. G. Card, marketing specialist at the College of Agriculture. Not only have the associations saved their members money in placing stock on the market but also they have had a tendency to improve the class of livestock raised in the territory covered by the associations and have developed a spirit of co-operation among farmers of the community. Co-operative livestock shipping associations are among the most simple of co-operative marketing organizations and constitute one of the easiest methods by which farmers may undertake this form of work, according to Mr. Card.

During the past year members of the association in Ballard county have made an average saving of approximately $80 on each of the 77 cars of stock which they have shipped a report from R. B. Wilford, manager of the association, states. The total saving on 77 cars when 16,000 pounds was taken as an average carload was more than $6,000. It cost members of the association an average of about 85 cents a hundred pounds to ship co-operatively whereas it had cost them from $1.35 to $1.75 to ship through a local buyer before the association was formed.

Similar results are being obtained by an association recently organized in Union county, the cost of shipping having been reduced about 30 cents on the hundred pounds by means of the co-operative plan. This association has shipped five carloads up to the present time at a cost of from 35 to 45 cents a hundred pounds. Marketing through a local buyer cost farmers in the county from 65 to 75 cents a hundred pounds.

The Omon Livestock Shipping Association in Webster county, one of the newest ones to be organized already has obtained results which indicate that the association is to be successful in reducing marketing costs. Fifty-nine hogs were shipped in the first carload at a cost of 33 cents a hundred pounds.

By the way, is congress still in session, or are they loafing around in Washington, or have they all gone home? If those birds don't make another noise soon it will look suspicious.

Path of Duty is First.

We must not waste chances of bettering ourselves—unless we make something of our own lives we cannot do much for other people; yet the finest way of bettering ourselves is in the path of duty, kindness, unselfishness.—Arthur L. Salmon, in Chicago Daily News.

"Perpetual Calendar."

The Rev. Francesco Scatigna, of Locorotondo, in the province of Bari, Italy, claims to have discovered a "perpetual calendar," which has baffled science for centuries. His calendar consists of two discs, one superimposed upon the other, by the turning of which the correct day, week and month may be obtained. The great astronomer Herschel declared that a perpetual calendar never could be devised.—From the Argonaut.

Geographical and Spiritual.

At Leamington there stands a tree which claims, or has claimed, to be the geographical center of England. A few miles away lies Stratford-on-Avon, so near the geographical center that one might fancy it placed there on purpose to signify it as the spiritual center of England.

"Association of Ideas."

This phrase seems to have been used first by John Locke, an English philosopher who lived in the seventeenth century, but the facts referred to were recognized as early as the time of Aristotle, when four ways by which the mind passes from one idea to another were discovered. These were known as association by similarity, by continuity, by contrast and by succession.

Farm And Home News From Over Kentucky

Campbell county farmers have given special attention to cover crops this fall with the result that few fields in the county in which soil washing might occur will be bare this winter, according to a report from County Agent H. F. Link.

Poultry, dairying, seed selection, orcharding and swine feeding are to receive special attention from farmers in the Forest Grove community of Crittenden county during the coming year, these phases of farming having been included in the community program of work which they have outlined under the direction of County Agent John R. Spencer.

Members of the Mackville Junior Agricultural Club in Washington county, recently staged a feature event when they held a junior club carnival having appropriate side shows and a number of other attractions, according to a report from Assistant County Agent H. R. Cottrell. Proceeds from the carnival will be used to purchase a sewing machine for the club.

Members of junior agricultural clubs in Warren county who raise pigs for their project during the coming year are to have exceptional opportunities in obtaining a start as swine growers as a result of plans being made by breeders of purebred hogs who are co-operating with County Agent W. H. Rogers. According to present plans prominent breeders in the county will furnish purebred animals to the club members at a reasonable price in order to give them a start in the work.

Considerable interest has been aroused among Boyle county farmers in the eradication of cattle tuberculosis as a result of a recent moving picture show in which the film entitled, "Out of the Shadows," was shown, according to County Agent C. L. Taylor. More than 830 persons attended the meeting.

Good results being obtained by the co-operative purebred Holstein sire association in Campbell county have aroused so much interest that Jersey breeders of the county are planning on a similar organization, a report from County Agent H. F. Link states.

Chill Weather Requires Care In Marketing Hogs.

Special care is necessary at this time of the year to avoid losses through overheating and subsequently chilling hogs being sent to the market, according to marketing specialists at the College of Agriculture. There is serious danger that animals which are overheated while being loaded will become chilled on their way to market with the result that they catch cold and sell at a disadvantage, the specialists say. Careless loading, hard driving and mistreatment of the animals must be guarded against carefully, they say.

THERE IS VIGOR IN RICH BLOOD Pepto-Mangan In Liquid or Tablets —a Blood Builder.

Vigor and strength have as their base rich red blood. Blood is rich when there are plenty of red corpuscles. They are the tiny red cells which swim in blood and give its color. Without red corpuscles blood would be white. When overwork, or straining, or illness weakens the blood, it diminishes the number of red cells. Without a sufficient number of red cells the blood becomes watery, the body weak. Vigor and strength fall off, so that physical life diminishes like a fading plant. The physical pleasure of eating and sleeping and exercise lose all attraction. There is no zest in living.

After Gude's Pepto-Mangan has been taken for a while the blood becomes rich with red cells. They help to nourish the entire system. With good blood at work there is a great difference in living. Eating, sleeping and exercise are enjoyed. All druggists sell Gude's Pepto-Mangan. Advertisement.

Farm Youngsters Show New Interest In Clubs.

Reports of increases in the enrollment of boys and girls in junior agricultural clubs being received by club authorities at the College of Agriculture from youngsters of the State are showing increased interest in the projects outlined for them in this work. Among the latest reports are those from Breathitt, Lawrence and Jackson counties, the county agents of which anticipate an increase in this year's enrollment over that of last year. In most cases the work is being carried on through the co-operation of school teachers, many of whom have reported a record enrollment from their district.

SHOOT SHEEP-KILLING DOGS

No Consideration Should Be Given Such Animals and Should Be Destroyed at Once.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The sheep-killing dog constitutes one of the greatest menaces to the sheep industry. Such dogs not only kill sheep, but keep out of the sheep business men who are otherwise inclined to go into it. Any specialist of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Sheep-killing dogs work both singly and in groups, but usually in twos or threes. They do not limit their attacks to the flocks of the immediate vicinity in which they are kept, but travel for miles in all directions, spreading destruction in the flocks with which they come in contact. Because their work is so often done under the cover of darkness it is almost impossible to catch them in the act of worrying sheep.

After a dog has once formed the habit of killing sheep it seemingly becomes a mania with him and he is seldom if ever broken of it. He not only destroys sheep himself but leads other dogs to the work. No consideration should be given such dogs; and if additional losses from this source are to be avoided, they should be killed as soon as their habits are known.

FEEDING CATTLE FOR PROFIT

Market Requirements for Beef Are Much Higher Than in Former Years—Skill Needed.

The feeding of beef cattle for the market has become a special line of work, which requires a high grade of skill through understanding of the feeding values of different materials used in the production of beef, as well as an appreciation of the requirements of animal nutrition and shrewd business ability. Without these prerequisites the feeder is doomed to receive very small returns for his labor. The market requirements for beef at present are much higher than in former years. It is necessary, therefore, in order to obtain prices which will pay the feeder for his time and outlay, to produce a herd of cattle as nearly uniform as possible in appearance and quality, with a high market finish and symmetrical development, particularly in those parts which yield high-priced cuts in which the profits lie for the butcher.

ARRANGE WALLOWS FOR HOGS

Water Must Be Supplied Not Only for Drinking but for Animals to Cool Bodies.

Hogs in pasture where there is no water are likely to suffer, not only for drinking water, but for water in which to cool their bodies. Slops are not sufficient. The hogs should have water in their troughs and in the wallow to cool themselves when the burning rays of the sun makes their lives a torture.

Hogs have a way of ridding themselves of troublesome parasites when they have a muddy wallow. Nature, it seems, helps them to survive as the fittest when there is a struggle for existence with parasites.

Hogs that must be penned should have shade and plenty of water. It is bad enough to be kept in pen without a struggle with heat and thirst. Give them shade and water.

PLAN TO PREVENT INFECTION

Newly Purchased Animals Should Be Quarantined in Separate Pens for Two Weeks.

Do not place newly purchased stock, stock procured or borrowed for breeding purposes, or stock exhibited at fairs immediately with your herd. Keep such stock quarantined in separate pens for at least two weeks, and use care in feeding and attending stock to prevent carrying infection from these to other pens.

BOAR HAS GREAT INFLUENCE

Breeding Animal Should Be Placed in Good-Sized Yard and Away From Rest of Herd.

How about the herd boar? Get him out in a good-sized yard, away from the rest of the herd. Remember he is half of the breeding power of the herd, and that his influence on the profits for the year amounts to more than that of any one sow.

S. Chapin, poultry specialist at the College of Agriculture and president of the association. The state meet of Rhode Island Red and Single Comb White Leghorn breeders together with an educational exhibit by the college and displays of birds by winning counties in Kentucky the State Fair standardization exhibit are expected to make the show of interest to all poultrymen and farmers in Kentucky.

Cattle Feeders Are To Study Beef Production Methods

Lexington, Ky.—Cattle feeders in Wayne, Nelson, Davies, Hart, Boyle, Madison and several other counties are planning to study the methods of the other fellow during the coming year in an effort to improve their methods of producing beef, according to plans for tours being made by Wayland Rhoads, beef cattle extension specialist from the College of Agriculture. The tours will be arranged to allow feeders in a given section of the State to observe practices being followed by feeders in the same section. Parties making the tours will consist largely of farmers who are conducting demonstrations in co-operation with their county agents and the college extension division.

KENTUCKY TURF'S GREAT PROGRESS

In the Last Three Years the Kentucky Jockey Club Has Distributed in Stakes and Purse $3,479,655.00.

THOROUGHBRED YEARLINGS INCREASE IN VALUE.

[From the Lexington (Ky.) Thoroughbred Horse.]

It will be of particular interest to the breeders of thoroughbreds in this State, and to those persons everywhere who own and race horses to review the situation in Kentucky and to show the progress that has been made in the last seventeen years. As the value of stallions and broodmares depends on the quality of their produce and the ability of that produce to win stakes and purses, a comparison of the present prosperous condition of the turf with other days when prices were low and breeders and turfmen everywhere had cause for complaint will be of value at this time.

Never in the history of the turf have thoroughbreds been so valuable as they are right now. The big, handsome, the noble, the quick and the action sales at Saratoga last August showed that, despite the general prostration of business, well bred horses with individual qualities brought the best average in many years. The highest price of the season at Saratoga was $21,000 for the brother to The Porter. Several others were sold for more than $10,000 each and a number of fairly looking colts and fillies brought from $5,000 to $7,000 each. The market generally was steady and unagitated, which is a sign that it was stable.

The prices were based on the probable earning power of these colts and fillies, and if organizations like the Kentucky Jockey Club did not offer generous stakes and purses, it would be marked their yearlings advantageously. Neither would it have been possible for S. C. Hildreth to have paid $125,000 for the brother to Man of War, $150,000 for Indefatigable, or for Benjamin Black to have paid on a $75,000 valuation for the mighty Morvich, or for a number of others to have paid the large prices given for horses with capacity to hold their own in contests on the turf.

Fifteen years ago it was no uncommon thing in Kentucky for turfmen to run their horses for $100 purses. This year the Kentucky Jockey Club distributed in stakes and purses an average of $12,500 a day to the turfmen; no purse at Churchill Downs or Latonia was under $1,000 and many of them reaching $1,500 and $1,000 each. In 1905 the Kentucky Derby was worth $4,870. Since the existence of the Kentucky Jockey Club, which was organized three years ago, the Kentucky Derby has been worth in 1919 over $20,000; in 1920 over $20,000, and in 1921 the Kentucky Jockey Club added $20,000 to the total stake. All the other stakes on the roster of the Kentucky Jockey Club at Lexington, Churchill Downs and Latonia have been proportionately increased.

In the three years of its existence the Kentucky Jockey Club has distributed to the turfmen $3,479,655, the greater part of which sum was paid to citizens of Kentucky who own and breed race horses.

Since the Kentucky Legislature in 1906 created the State Racing Commission, we have had cleaner and better racing than ever before, and since the organization of the Kentucky Jockey Club we have had an era of prosperity for breeders and turfmen unequalled in the turf history of this State.

Here are the official figures for the past seventeen years, from 1905 to 1921, inclusive:

1905—	Total number of racing days...155	Total amount of money distributed.....$420,000.00	Purses averaged about $2,700 each.
1906—	Total number of racing days...174	Total amount of money distributed.....$517,000.00	Purses averaged about $2,970 each.
1907—	Total number of racing days...110	Total amount of money distributed.....$302,500.00	Purses averaged about $2,750 each.
1908—	Total number of racing days...111	Total amount of money distributed.....$290,000.00	Purses averaged about $2,590 each.
1909—	Total number of racing days...112	Total amount of money distributed.....$249,000.00	Purses averaged about $2,220 each, although this year purses at Lexington ran as low as $250.
1910—	Total number of racing days...112	Total amount of money distributed.....$316,500.00	Lexington purses ran as low as $300 and the average for the whole circuit was $450 each.
1911—	Total number of racing days...113	Total amount of money distributed.....$388,500.00	Purses averaged about $3,430 each.
1912—	Total number of racing days...100	Total amount of money distributed.....$347,200.00	Purses averaged about $3,470 each.
1913—	Total number of racing days...108	Total amount of money distributed.....$444,500.00	Purses averaged over $4,000 each.
1914—	Total number of racing days...104	Total amount of money distributed.....$431,000.00	Purses averaged over $4,140 each.
1915—	Total number of racing days...102	Total amount of money distributed.....$481,000.00	Purses averaged over $4,710 each.
1916—	Total number of racing days...107	Total amount of money distributed.....$529,000.00	Purses averaged about $4,940 each.
1917—	Total number of racing days...104	Total amount of money distributed.....$573,500.00	Purses averaged about $5,420 each.
1918—	Total number of racing days...101	Total amount of money distributed.....$650,000.00	Purses averaged about $6,430 each; Latonia, Douglas Park and Churchill Downs increasing many of the over-night purses $1,000 each.
1919—	Total number of racing days...99	Total amount of money distributed.....$997,100.00	The Kentucky Jockey Club was organized this year and took over the Lexington, Churchill Downs and Latonia race tracks. The average daily amount given in stakes and purses at all tracks was $11,214, and the seven races each day averaged $1,602 each.
1920—	Total number of racing days...108	Total amount of money distributed.....$1,281,675.00	The average daily amount in stakes and purses at all tracks was $11,807, and the seven races each day averaged $1,685.90 each.
1921—	Total number of racing days...107	Total amount of money distributed.....$1,200,800.00	The average daily amount in stakes and purses at all tracks was $11,214, and the seven races each day averaged $1,602 each.
